Sir Hans Sloane Evening Talks

Every Wednesday
30 June – 25 August

Sir Hans Sloane 1660–1753

This summer we are celebrating the 350th anniversary of the birth of Sir Hans Sloane. Born in Killyleagh in Northern Ireland, of Scottish parents, Sloane developed a lifelong love of nature. As a young man he travelled to the Caribbean, recording plants and customs: including a recipe for drinking chocolate. He was President of both the Royal College of Physicians and the Royal Society and founder of the British Museum. In 1722 he set the rent of Chelsea Physic Garden at £5 a year, for as long as it be used for the study of useful plants. Without this bequest it is unlikely Chelsea Physic Garden would still survive. We thank all our guest speakers for taking part in what should be an illuminating series of lectures.
